My dear Mr. Booth

I read my sister's
story when it came
back from you yesterday.
And it struck me as
being bright enough
to worth the trouble
of hardening & a
more reasonable length.
And that it would be rather nice to give it
as a surprise to her.
But before beginning I want to ask if I
may send it again

for you dears. Should I do so? I am
very anxious that
she should get into
the way of visiting
late-atte stages - you
know it takes a
little experience to travel by winter what you are - but don't you think she has
quite a charming
little touch?

I am on the sofa
to-day which must excuse my bad writing - and I am dear dears. Booth
my cordially yours. S. W. W.
